Red tape is a grand thing, in fact it is about half the existence of many men. Ever since last Monday night a train of cars and a crew of men have been waiting in Reno for the purpose of transporting a body of cavalry to the scene of the Indian hostilities. The courier who brought the news arrived here last Monday and we believe the soldiers left about the same time. He came through in a hurry, while they are not here yet and we can not say that they will be present soon. We were informed that they were coming on a "forced march," that they would just come with the fleetness of the wind, etc.

Well, here it is Friday evening, and still no mighty warriors. We are of the opinion that too much red tape business is being gone through with, that some officers must needs "have a little brief authority," and make much fuss and feathers over the event. But all this takes time, and the Indians could clean out the whole country in the meantime. The average Indian warrior knows but little about red tape, but does know how to fight, and does it, too, for all he is worth. Some have been uncharitable enough to intimate that if the Indians had been after those Fort Bidwell fellows, that they, the "follies," would have been in the neighborhood of Chicago by this time. This is unkind, however. One thing is certain, much time is being lost. True, the happy termination of the war does away with the necessity of their coming at all, but had it been otherwise the same dilatory movements would have been made. It seems to be hardly the thing for the lives of many valuable settlers to be jeopardized that one or two petty officers may strut and show their feathers. Too much of this sort of thing is indulged in for the public good and safety. If the military posts are for the safety of the public then let them prove themselves in time of need; if not, then let them be abolished and save the money they cost.

LEADING PAPER.

Since the Sacramento Union has passed into the hands that wore, this coast has not had a leading paper. The San Francisco Bulletin and the Sacramento Record-Union have tried to fill the place of the deceased Union, but their failures have been most signal. We are in receipt daily of all the principal papers of the coast, and for general news, purity and fearlessness of tone, and reliability we without hesitancy pick out the Virginia Enterprise. It has more power than either of the other large papers, and withal is modest. We have never noticed it blowing about its enterprise, but is content with letting the people see for themselves and form a cool, dispassionate judgment. Nevada certainly carries off the palm of having the best paper on the coast.

A PUZZLE.

The papers of yesterday pronounce the Indian war as a failure, that a few Shoshones were engaged in the dangerous occupation of gathering pine nuts! Just think of that! To have such a scare raised over such a trivial matter. But these scares cost money. Uncle Sam will have to foot the bills made by the transporting of soldiers from one place to another. We are very glad that the matter has ended as it has, but would recommend that the alarm be not made in the future unless there is a certainty of its truthfulness.

SAYS the Baltimore Sun: "Four thousand boxes, out of twenty thousand, of peaches, brought to this city the other day, could not be sold, and were returned to the growers to rot. The packing houses are canning millions of peaches for the future."

A report of the Board of Examiners for the State of Nevada says that there is $201,161.92 in coin, $6,901.49 in currency and $41,500 in bonds in the State Treasury. Pretty good, that.

CENTENNIAL NOTES.

ELOQUENT EULOGY.

There will be between 150 and 200 buildings—a little city in itself—erected on the Centennial grounds.

It is stated that a company of 400

Egyptians will erect a row of buildings on the Centennial grounds in imitation of a street in Cairo. Next?

Machinery Hall alone, it is said, is large enough to hold all the church edifices of Philadelphia, 500 in number. This will give the reader some idea of the magnitude of the buildings now in course of erection there. The photographers will have a $20,000 building put up for their special accommodation.

The Japanese village in Fairmont Park next year will be one of the curiosities of the Centennial.

Smokers will be glad to hear that a Turkish tobaccoconist will erect a divan in Fairmont Park next year.

There is no truth in the rumor recently circulated, that the exclusive privilege for selling beer on the Centennial grounds had been purchased for $50,000.

Great Britain will occupy 88,000 square feet.

A fifty cent admission fee will entitle the ticket holder to visit every portion of the grounds.

No space in the Centennial buildings will be allotted to citizens of countries whose governments have not appointed commissioners.

All the nations in the world but three, Prussia, Italy and Greece have accepted the invitation of the Government to participate in the Centennial exhibition.

A CINCINNATI man, who well deserves immortality and barrels of greenbacks if he succeeds, thinks he has discovered a plan by which the smoke and cinders from a locomotive can be carried to the rear end of the train and there set free without annoying passengers. His apparatus consists of a simple tube, a foot or so in diameter, running from the smoke stack over the tops of the cars to the rear, his theory being that the speed of the train will create a draught of sufficient power to suck in all the smoke and cinders and scatter them to the winds behind the train. The idea has been patented, and, if it proves effective, the patentee should receive the thanks of the entire civilized world, and no doubt he will, and make a fortune besides.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S TAILOR SIGN STILL ON THE OLD SHOP.—At the corner opposite to the Court house a sign has been erected, reading: "Leading to Andy Johnson's Tailor Shop." This shop is a small building of a single story, about 20 by 16 feet, and is still in a good shape of preservation. Over the door is the old sign, a board four feet long and one foot and a half in width, painted black, with the words, "A. Johnson, Tailor," in yellow letters. This building has two windows, at one of which Mr. Johnson was wont to work as village tailor.

"Muso hath charms to soothe the savage breast," young Mr. Wayland, of Bloomfield, began to remark one day last week, just as they were lifting a piano out of the express wagon, and just then the music box slipped from their hands and Mr. Wayland went on—"Ow-w! Murder! Murder! Murder! Mother! Oh! Lordy! Oh! Lordy! Oh! Doctor! Ow-w! Blank the blank, blank the thing to blankety blank!" And then they chopped two of his toes off and set his ankles. He has no ear for music now.

Tom Cox, of South Fork, California, while hunting deer came suddenly upon a doe and fawn. The doe, to protect her fawn, immediately made a charge upon a dog which was with Mr. Cox, and he in his excitement dropped his gun, and seizing a handful of rocks commenced a stony warfare upon the doe, and never once thought of his gun until the deer was out of sight, when he picked up his gun and walked home, with the remark that he was too big a fool to hunt deer.

Chicago has eighteen elevators which hoist in some ninety million bushels of dry grain in a year, and over two thousand establishments when the fluid extract of several million bushels more is elevated. Greatest grain market in the world.

On Wednesday night three trains were ditched on the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, attended by fatal accidents in each case. The cause was the washing out of the track by the recent heavy rains.

Chicago has eighty-five miles of Nicholson pavement, and only half of it is fit to drive upon.

Lumber is quoted at $40 per 100 feet in the Black Hills.

WHERE TO LIVE.—All good men should live in Archangel; all angry men in Ireland.

All murderers in Kildare; all vicious men in Somersett.

All brokers in Stockholm; all cold men in Chili.

All geometers in Cuba; all fools in Folly Island.

All horticulturists in Botany Bay; all wags in the bay of Fundy.

All perfumers in Muscat or Cologne; all brewers in Malta.
